Ask any astronomer what they hate, and most likely you'll hear a response along the lines of "The Sun". Night time is an astronomer's greatest friend, as that's when the stars come out to shine.

In 2016, we were the new boys, freshly promoted to Div 1 and under the cover of darkness; we worked our way through the season, climaxing with the ultimate assault on the established district clubs to take the fame and glory.

In 2017, the spotlight is firmly pointed at PAOC, and the glare is taking its toll. A lacklustre start to the season sees The Reds sitting in the bottom half of the ladder, after just scaping home over bottom placed SPOC on the weekend.

Last season, speed and fitness were hallmarks of Reds footy. In 2017, we've started well, winning 3 of 5 first quarters, but only 5 of 15 quarters after that. Losing 4 of 5 final terms, and that single win being by a solitary point, it is clear we are not running out games like we would like.

The likes of Cas, Pez and Jolz are spending more and more time in the middle, sending us to a combined first half lead of 39points over the 5 games. Unfortunately our second halves have let us down to the tune of -59points. The fact we are more than a three goal worse side in the second half than first is concerning.

The funny thing about the stars is that although you can't see them while the sun is out, they are still there, shining just like at night. The Reds will do well to remember this fact. Ignore the spotlight, and take advantage of your second and third tier midfielders. These stars are just as bright as last year, and can carry us to a win over Salisbury North, provided we give them the chance to shine.

Thank you!

We have amazing sponsors. The Coopers, Wicks, Hugo and Thomas families have been major supporters, and major sponsors of our football club for a number of years. We are forever indebted, if you ever get a chance—support those who support the Old Reds.
