Matthew "Clever" Kildea is an undefeated former player, premiership assistant coach and general know-itall who seems to have an opinion on everything!

Clev's Corner

Round 8 was another successful week for the Reds, with the A's winning all four quarters for the second week in a row, thanks to the clearance work of Perryman and Ryan Tromans efforts to simply play his role. Acting Captain Willy Dags played his best game in a month and

A-grade debutant Amyas Ross did more than enough to replace the injured Bomber. Jake Pitt's four goals eleventeen were handy and his party tricks during the lock-in were more impressive, but it was Jack Lang's form that I took most note of when I bumped into him and his accomplice at the Addict Lounge in the early hours of Sunday morning, Bravo!

The B-grade also got up on the weekend, falling over the line by five points to survive a late charge from Modbury who threw everything at us. Olly Collison was BOG by a fair margin and continues to put his name in front of the A-grade selectors. He'll hopefully have some support around him after the bye with the likes of CGraetz, Wehl, Backwell, Neely, Blanch, Sullivan, GBurf, GTreloar and Aughey all expected to slot into the A's and B's.

In the C's it was all about Brett Backwell. #mousewatch was trending world-wide on twitter as our A-grade coach kicked off the dew and racked up an impressive 24 disposals (16 kicks, 8 handballs), 5 marks, 4 inside 50s, 3 rebound 50s, 1 tackle and 1 goal assist, with a disposal efficiency of 83%, all in two and a half quarters of footy. Some might forgive Mouse for his single clanger in his first game of footy for five years, but as that famous bridge builder and his goat knows, it's always the single act they remember you for. Looking at the other 24 players, I thought PAOC's very own oxymoron Chris Short was stiff not to get in the votes.

The D-grade had a tough assignment this week, up against the very strong North Haven. To make matters harder, Weed doubled up after the C-grade game, while Pembo and Martin were only available for a half each. Thankfully James Turner was available for the full game, and didn't he show the boys how to play. Dashing run through the middle of the
