The final game of the home and away season took the A grade to Gepps Cross to face another team that was fighting to stay alive in Div 2. Five changes to last week's team was not ideal but gave us the opportunity to take a look at a different set up and give players who have been struggling for fitness some much needed game time. Gepps started like a team on edge and by the end of the quarter they had amassed 13 scoring shots to 2. The game should have been over, however the wayward kicking of the Bulldogs 4.9 kept us in the contest. Our centre clearance work and use of the footy around the ground was important in the second term and gave us several opportunities in front of goal. By the end of the second quarter we had reduced the margin to 8 points and the mood was buoyant.

A few missed shots at goal 1.4 and poor decisions allowed Gepps to slip away to a 3 goal lead in the third and even though we finished the last quarter kicking 3.3 to 2.3 the margin was too much to rein in.

So the A grade finished the season in 3rd position 11 wins 7 losses which is a fantastic effort. We now turn our focus and energy's to what should be an exciting finals series for the Reds starting this week with the first qualifying final against Scotch at Scotch.

Some observations from PAOC Supporter Rob Waltham following the article last week on John Waltham before his 200th game.

Data Retrieval:

Gold Star for data retrieval related to club history stats that go back to prehistory. He is probably using this for his Masters Degree in IT!

Football ability:

Notable on-field achievement observed during an early season game this year: During one of his 5 min impact bursts sessions in the forward pocket, he almost took a mark, soccered a ball toward goal, had a handball assist goal, took out the field umpire but was not reported and was best man (and only man) on the ground (literally). Entertainment ++++. Why does he not get more game time?

Central Umpire:

In the last game of the regular season at Woodville South, Alf Brown and I travelled to Ledger Oval exclusively to see how Heito performed as a field umpire (after hearing from a source that he was to do so). We observed a smooth and flowing performance. At one stage, we thought that he did not have a whistle but his command was exemplary. There were no fights and the game was played in good spirits.

We were, however, disappointed that up until half time he did not bounce the ball at anytime. We felt that this was something well within Heito's capability, so we decided to approach him at half time to suggest that he consider introducing this into the game.... Heito took this suggestion on board and at the start of the second half he attempted the 'bounce'. He achieved the HEIGHT but not the direction and needless to say he had to recall it and throw it up. More work needed on the bounce Andrew!

Good luck to the team next week. Sadly I will be in Zagreb but will look forward to the game report also from Heito.

Brothers bond

THERE have been some great family names in Australian football - Cordy at Melbourne, Williams at Port Adelaide, Daniher at Essendon, Oatey at Norwood and Sturt, Hank at West Torrens, Stringer at Glenelg and North Adelaide ... and now the Walthams of Prince Alfred Old Collegians.

Tom Waltham, previously of league fame with Sturt, has come out of retirement to join his brothers Andrew, David and John in turning football into a family affair. They were reunited for the first time since backyard games at home on April 29 when PAOC played Eastern Districts at Elizabeth in the A3 amateur ranks - and won. It was the first time all four brothers had played together for premiership points.

The reunion will be short-lived. David is moving to Brisbane to work with a civil engineering firm.

We travelled out to Gepps Cross to finish the minor round and while nothing was to gain in terms of ladder position it was important to finish the regular season well before our well-earned week off before our first final.

The first 10 minutes saw the ball move end to end too easily as we seemed hesitant to get first hands to the ball. It was through the opposition's mistakes that we were able to kick 3 late goals to lead at quarter time. Our focus on the footy improved in the second and third quarters, the midfield getting on top and our forwards finishing in front of goal. With a few sore bodies we ended up finishing the game with 16 men on the field but to the player's credit we ran the game out strongly.

After the minor round we have put ourselves in the best position possible. A deserved week off next week will allow us to freshen up for the month ahead.

The C grade played a quality opposition in TTG at Thebarton Oval in our first final. We played a good brand of tight hand running finals footy and at the final siren we had our nose in front by 5 points. We lost Ollie Clarke early with a broken wrist and we wish him a speedy recovery but the rest of the team stepped up to cover for him.

We controlled the flow of the game with strong attack on the ball and a willingness to win the hard ball which saw the game played mostly in our forward half. The only place that we could have improved on was on our goal kicking with 5 goals 15 behinds. 10 more scoring shots than TTG. We will work on this during the week.

The E grade took on Scotch at Thebarton Oval and got off to an impressive start kicking into a slight breeze. The defense held up well led by the half back line of Prest, J-Lo and Jack Latchford and allowed us to hold Scotch scoreless in the first quarter despite a number of inside 50's.

The second quarter was equally as impressive with Scotch's only goal coming from a controversial free kick in front of goals. Across the ground we had plenty of winners and the side had plenty of momentum heading into half time.

The third quarter was disappointing as we allowed Scotch back into the game. We also lost a number of players to injury including J-Lo and Lynchy and therefore our depth was tested. With Tyson Smith, Scot Tyndall and Nick Pemberton all away on holiday (feeling finals was the ideal time to take a break!) and Alfie Brown missing with general softness (claims to have a corked thigh and horrific internal bleeding as a result) we unfortunately just didn't have the man power to get over the line.

It should be noted Alfie Brown was wearing sunglasses the entire pre game in the change room despite the fact there was not even a window in the room.

Congratulations to John Waltham who played his 200th game. He celebrated by getting sent off for tripping in the second quarter.
